It's December 1939, and Gone with the Wind is about to storm the silver screen. Hitler will soon invade Poland...but the biggest concern of Atlanta's Freitag family is 'Ballyhoo', a lavish ball that marks the end of the social season for the elite southern Jewish community. The arrival of a stranger from New York, Uncle Adolph's new (and very eligible) assistant, unwittingly becomes a pawn between the two young cousins, Lala and Sunny, but ultimately he forces the family to deal with who they really are as they are torn apart and mended again, with plenty of hilarious comedy, sweet romance and unexpected turns.

Winner of the 1997 Tony award for Best Play... "achingly beautiful"
